Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company Recognizes 130th Anniversary

The national life insurance provider honors more than a century of providing peace of mind

CANTON, Mass., August 18, 2021 – Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, a national provider of insurance solutions for individuals and at the workplace, today recognizes its 130th anniversary. Boston Mutual has served working Americans since its founding in 1891, initially serving just the community in Massachusetts and eventually expanding to serve policyholders from coast to coast.

Throughout industry shifts, changing times and even two global pandemics, the company has evolved and transformed while continually remaining focused on the mission and values established at its founding. Throughout 130 years, the company has only had seven presidents, reflecting Boston Mutual’s stability, consistency, and financial strength.

“Reflecting on our deep-rooted history, it’s an honor to recognize this milestone anniversary and the legacy of the Boston Mutual family that have helped lead us to where we are today,” said Paul A. Quaranto, Jr., Chairman, CEO and President at Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company. “We continue to provide peace of mind in a time of need, and our innovation and evolution is a true testament to the dedication of our producers and employees to be there for our policyholders and communities. We have weathered many storms, but through it all, we have remained true to our core mission of delivering on our promises – and for that, I am proud.”

Over the past 130 years, Boston Mutual has provided peace of mind for Americans and their families and achieved several noteworthy milestones. A few pieces of its history include:

- August 18, 1891 – Boston Mutual Life Association is established. The company’s first president, John H. Wheeler, opens its first office at 17 Milk Street, Boston, on the site of Benjamin Franklin’s birthplace.
- 1899 – The Board of Directors votes to change the company’s name from “Boston Mutual Association” to “Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company.”
- 1974 – Boston Mutual moves into a larger office space on Royall Street in Canton, Massachusetts. The company’s headquarters resides in the same location today.
